

Antonio Fernández, Electrical/Maintenance Technician

Antonio Fernández was born in Seville and likes practicing martial arts. He also enjoys soccer, but he is not a fanatic. His big passion is do-it-yourself projects, which often involve his trade as an electrician, and trying to find a solution for the “impossible.” He considers himself perceptive and he likes to chat with people. He encourages our students to take advantage of their time here as much as possible, as much in the academic sense as well as discovering the city and province of Seville.
