

Maritheresa Frain is the Director of the CIEE Study Center in Seville and Resident Director for the Liberal Arts and Advanced Liberal Arts Programs. Her career with CIEE in Sevilla began in 2001. Maritheresa is a native of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. She completed her undergraduate work in International Politics at The Pennsylvania State University and went on to pursue her MA and Ph.D. in International Relations at Georgetown University. While living in DC, Maritheresa was an employee of the International Monetary Fund and a visiting professor at Georgetown. In 1989, she received a grant to work in office of the Portuguese Prime Minister (Aníbal Cavaco Silva, currently the President of Portugal). Since that time she has lived and worked in Greece, Russia, Switzerland, Madrid and now Seville. Maritheresa has published extensively on issues related to Spanish and Portuguese politics and defense issues. After having lived abroad in so many different cultural settings, Maritheresa enjoys working with American students in Seville as they discover for themselves the joys and challenges of becoming a truly global citizen. Maritheresa is married to a “sevillano”, Juan, and they have a 13 year old daughter, Carmen. Maritheresa is also the US Consular Agent for the State Department covering western Andalusia.
